

Your name: Brian Aldridge
Your email address: brian@example.com
Enquiry date: 3/12/14
Your telephone number: 07954 *****
How did you hear about us? Private Eye ad
Who you're commissioning it for: My wife, Jennifer
The occasion: Her 70th birthday
Date it's needed: 7/1/15 (the actual day but would like it as early as possible)
Dedication: To a wonderful wife and mother with love
Level of difficulty: Medium
Information:

Here are some words that could be used:

Places Jenny has worked:

The Bull (her parents ran and later owned the local pub which Jenny helped her mother run at various times)
Grey Gables (a local hotel Jenny worked at)
Hallerton Primary (Jenny worked as a teacher there for a short time)
Borchester Echo (as a journalist Jenny had a countryside column in the paper for a while)
Blog – Jenny runs the Ambridge Village website where she keeps an account of village life

Hobbies:

Flower arranging – Jenny was once the winner of the Gentleman's Buttonhole prize at the village fete. She is also on the flower rota at the local church. Her favourite flowers are roses.

Cooking: Jenny is an amazing cook and particularly well known for her game pie.

S.A.V.E Jenny is an active member of the campaign: Save Am Vale Environment (the Am is a local river)

Family:

Children: Adam, Debbie, Kate, Alice and Ruairi (her step-son), grandchildren: Phoebe, Nolly and Siphon, Sister: Lillian, Brother: Tony, Mother: Peggy

Other:

Bristol – Jenny lived there for a while Walsall – Jenny went to teacher training college there teepee – her first grandchild was born in one at Glastonbury!
Moped – her preferred method of transport as a teenager vuvuzelas – South African instruments Kate gave to Ruairi and Phoebe that almost drove Jenny insane!
Fete – Jenny is a keen participant in our local village fete
Ambridge – our village
Home Farm – where we live